ST. PAUL'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Indianapolis, Indiana

Completed 2007

As Liturgical Design Consultant for this renovated church in Indianapolis, we designed all the liturgical furnishings including the carved stone baptismal font, altar table, pulpit, lectern, ambry, communion rails, clergy stalls, pavement lights, carved gold leaf cross, pavement lights and the choir screen. The wood used is quarter sawn white oak with traditional Gothic tracery and detailing.

The addition of the three new bays of chancel area and organ chamber at the former west end

The chancel is set off by the decorative painting of the ceiling above. The sanctuary of the altar is established by a hanging polychrome and gold leaf cross and the placement of four monumental pavement lights.
